Setting up your Verizon One Talk solution just got faster and easier with SYNEX.

verizon

Verizon One Talk<sup>SM</sup> is a communications solution that makes it easy for employees to work in the office, on the go or both. And it was designed to be as easy to set up as it is to use. But even the simplest installation takes time. Which is why we've teamed up with SYNEX Corporation. With experts in information technology, mobility and consumer electronic products, SYNEX can help you get your One Talk solution up and running even faster.

Maybe you have remote workers who need help getting set up so they can get to work right away. Or maybe you've ordered new One Talk desk phones for your whole office and need to get them up and running. Whatever your needs, SYNEX offers installation services for anything from general home and office to more complex situations.

See SYNEX in action.

Let's take a quick look at actual examples of how SYNEX has helped Verizon One Talk customers achieve faster results.

Remote employee setup

A small midwestern commercial lighting company wanted to get a remote sales representative up and running as soon as possible. The company purchased a Verizon One Talk package, including a desk phone for the new sales representative, and bundled its purchase with a SYNEX installation. The Verizon representative contacted a SYNEX technician to set everything up. The SYNEX technician confirmed an installation time with the lighting company sales representative and performed the installation and configuration of her Verizon One Talk system. Because the representative was able to get connected so quickly, she landed two extra sales in her first month.

Full company installation

To make sure agents didn't miss out on major opportunities in a high-paced market, one real estate company chose One Talk as its communication solution. The company needed to install One Talk in its office and on its agents' devices quickly, without interrupting its employees' productivity. By opting to have SYNEX do the installation, employees and administrative assistants could keep their focus on supporting clients. SYNEX experts quickly installed and configured One Talk for all the employees at the company. The fast implementation of One Talk helped agents stay connected with each other and their customers, resulting in increased sales.
